CHRISTMAS PARTY 2008

The Christmas party started at 7pm with an influx of members and guests in fancy dress. This included some dressed as school children (St Trinians!!) and others dressed as a Jester, an Elf, Vicky Pollard, a Wizard and a Spanish couple amongst others. It was nice to see some members' partners on the night that we don't usually see at events throughout the year. The comedian came on at approx 8.45pm and did two 45 minute slots with the same standard of performance as he did the previous year. There were plenty of raffle prizes with something for everyone (booze and chocolates). The raffle generated £54.00. The food went down a storm, there was plenty of variety and it was consumed very quickly. Thanks to everyone for making a fabulous night, great company, plenty of laughs and here's looking forward to the show events in 2009.

If anybody has any suggestions for next year for Christmas please let a committee member know. Maybe you would like to do something different, eg Bowling or something similar?????

The party this year had a theme of school kids and some of us dressed up to fit the occasion. Others came dressed up in anything from sailors to gangsters with their molls.

It never took long to get the party in full swing and everybody was up on the dance floor strutting their stuff. The artist was the same as we had last year, but his routine has not changed nor did the songs he sang, although the music he played was something we could all dance to. Half way through the evening we stopped for a small buffet and it was a little sparse this year. By the time some people got from the bar to the food most of it had gone. But everybody had a good time. We had a raffle and then it was back to the dance floor.

It was at this point that my memory started to fade as the falling down water started to take effect but I can remember wishing everybody a very merry Christmas on the way out.
